Provider Adapter

Provider interfaces are encapsulated and mapped to unified interfaces to separate concerns of interactions with the provider from application functionality.

How can the dependencies of an application component on a provider-specific interface be managed?

Synchronous to Asynchronous Adapter